If you google “KULINE” , then you will find the website.

KULINE

The screenshot shows the KULINE search interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs: KUSearch, Articles, Discovery, RareBooks, OtherUniv, CrossSearch, and KURENAI. Below these is a search bar with a dropdown menu showing 'Basic Search' and 'Advanced Search'. A checkbox labeled 'contains review and tag' is checked. The search input field contains '$sushi' and is highlighted with an orange box. To the right of the search bar is a 'Search' button with a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar is a 'Refine Your Search' section, also highlighted with an orange box. It contains two sections: 'Material Type' with 'Books (55)' and 'Ebooks (67)', and 'Holding Library' with a list of libraries and their respective counts: Yoshida (Main Library: 23, Yoshida-South Library: 4, Letters Library: 5, Law: 2, Economics: 2, Econ. Res. Office: 1, Eng. Arch. (Yoshida): 2). To the right of the 'Refine Your Search' section is a callout box with the text '$sushi⇒スシ'. Below the search bar and 'Refine Your Search' section is a results list. The first result is 'La passante du Sans souci' (a film) and the second is 'すし通' (an e-book). The results list also includes a 'Select All' checkbox and buttons for 'Bookmark', 'Output', 'Mail', and 'Export'.

When you want to find Japanese books, you can search by the roman alphabet. If you type start from dollar mark($) and your keyword to the search box, in this case, すし, then it is automatically converted into Japanese Characters.
